Table of contents

In Anishinaabemowin, there are a couple forms that verbs can take: Independent, Conjunct, Changed Conjunct, and Imperative.

- Independent order (A) is used to make simple declarative statements and frequently yes/no questions.
- Conjunct order (B) is used to create subordinate clauses (sentences inside sentences) and some content questions (if, when, that, to).
- Changed conjunct order (C) is used to formulate relative clauses (sentences inside sentences) and content questions (who, what, why, how).
- Imperative order (D) is used to give commands.

A Form	B Form	C Form	D form
Independent Declarative Simple Yes/no questions	Dependent Subordinate Complex Content questions	Dependent Relative Complex Content questions	Independent Direct Simple / Complex Commands
	if that to before	who what how why	Do! Don't!

Example: [noun] ginebig snake

[noun] gaazhagens cat

[vta] jiim kiss h/

gii-jiimaan gaazhagensan ginebig The snake kissed the cat
